

Distance Learning Data Summary

Satisfaction Levels

In general, users seemed content with the course, with there being far more students reporting being satisfied or extremely satisfied over not satisfied or extremely disappointed.

Comments

While we observed 12 different comment classifications from 109 different comments, a few sentiments were repeated several times and appear to be more significant than the others. Students mentioned the discussion board the most, with the phrase "discussion board" mentioned the most frequently. The second most popular response was "nothing," which seems to indicate that the students think the instructor did nothing to encourage contact and communication among students. "Email" ranked third, though students failed to specify whether the word “email” referred to emailing the professor or emailing one another.
